Bright Futures Guidelines, Fourth Edition: Public Review Now Open

Deadline: July 29, 2015 11:59 PM EDT

The public review period for the Fourth Edition of the Bright Futures Guidelines for Health Supervision of Infants, Children, and Adolescents is now open.

We are indebted for your willingness to serve as a reviewer of the Fourth Edition, and we welcome your input. This document represents the combined efforts of four Age/Stage Expert Panels comprised of pediatricians, family physicians, nurse practitioners, nutritionists, mental health specialists, pediatric dentists and families.

What you will review is a near final draft. This is a review for accuracy, completeness, citation updates and consistency with your organizations policy. General comments can no longer be integrated into this work at this late stage. We are soliciting suggestions for content. The co-Chairs and Expert Panel members will take them into consideration in the final product.

This review is Web-based only. We are unable to process hard copy comments. You will be able to submit comments as an individual or on behalf of an organization.

*All comments must be received by July 29, 2015 11:59 PM EDT
Comments will not be accepted after the review deadline.

Direct Link: <http://review.aap.org/BrightFutures/Guidelines/> (or via the home page of the Bright Futures Web site)

The review is organized in the following manner listed below.

- 12 health promotion themes
- 32 visits (prenatal and 31 well-child care visits)

The full table of contents is provided after the Helpful Tips section of this email

Helpful Tips

Registration: All reviewers are required to electronically register. You will receive a confirmation email that will assign a password. Once your account is established, you will need to click the User Agreement every time you sign in. If you forget your password, there is a "Forgot Your Password" link on the home page.

PLEASE "SAVE" YOUR COMMENTS OFTEN: You will review and submit comments electronically. You can return and edit any time during the review process. As you work on your responses, you can save what you have typed and return to it at a later time to continue. You will be able to view or revise your previously saved comments up until the closing date. It is possible that your Internet server provider can log you off your Internet connection without warning if you are working on one Web page for too long a period.

Additional Citations: Only complete citations can be accepted, and you will be prompted to easily provide full reference information.

Completeness (Adding or deleting content): Where you propose a wording change, you will be prompted to provide clearer, more concise or more accurate wording.

Consistency with Policy: Where you feel these Guidelines fail to conform to your own views or to a policy of the organization you represent, please make the desired changes AND state why the change is important. If you are quoting a policy published by your organization it is essential that you quote and cite the policy. Web citations are acceptable, but confirm the date accessed.

PDFs: The Guidelines are formatted PDF documents. Please refer to the line numbers on the left hand side of the document when adding your comments. Please note that these documents are embargoed.

Call for Nominations - Chapter Awards

Deadline: Friday, July 31st

Send to: ashley.politz@laaap.org with subject line of "Chapter Awards Nomination"

Include: name of nominee with a few sentences on why that person is being nominated

Description of awards for 2015:

David W. Van Gelder distinguished Service Award—This award is to recognize and honor those rare and dedicated individuals who have contributed substantially to the advancement of the Chapter.

Dr. David Van Gelder served as AAP President from 1976-77. During his tenure, the Academy finalized a voluntary continuing education and assessment program leading to recertification and energized efforts to develop child health planning at state and local levels. In addition, Dr. Van Gelder oversaw changes that were made within the Academy's internal structure to increase efficiency and enhance services for members. He was a vocal advocate for creating a national immunization policy. Under his presidency, the Academy adopted a statement advocating such a policy.

Previous award winners:

2013	H. Jay Collinsworth, MD, FAAP
2011	Stewart Gordon, MD, FAAP
2009	Michael Judice, MD
2007	Keith Perrin, MD, FAAP

1992	Larry Hebert, MD
1990	David Van Gelder

Charles M Vanchiere Award—This award is given to recognize special efforts to improve the health of children in Louisiana by increasing their access to needed health care.

Dr. Charles M. "Buzzy" Vanchiere was a private pediatrician in Lake Charles, Louisiana, for nearly 30 years, and a tireless advocate for children's services. He pushed the private sector to accept Medicaid patients when the state first allowed them to bill for screening and diagnostic services. He was president of the LA Chapter of AAP at the time that the federal State Child Health Insurance Legislation was enacted and he was a major force in assuring that Louisiana took advantage of this new opportunity to cover children. He served on medical committees in his parish, in the state and for the American Academy of Pediatrics. He organized and led the Pediatric Society of Southwest Louisiana and the LSU Pediatric Alumni Association. He chaired the Pediatric Advisory Committee for Medicaid and was a member of the Blue Cross Physician Executive Committee. He was also active in the "Children's Miracle Network" and received it "Miracle Makers" award in 1995 for outstanding service to that program. Dr. Vanchiere died in the year 2000 at the young age of 60 and the Chapter established this award in his name to honor outstanding child advocates.

 2000 Rep. Shirley Bowler

Elizabeth E. Cassinelli Award—This award is given in recognition of special efforts relevant to women’s careers in pediatrics-at academic institutions, as basic scientist or clinicians, and in the private sector.

Dr. Libby Cassinelli was a general pediatrician who spent her career in Shreveport/Bossier City. She was in private practice, then worked at Barksdale AFB where she practiced until her retirement, and closed her career at the LSU Med School in Shreveport. During her career, she organized the NW LA Pediatric Society, served in every office, and personally arranged up to 4 lectureships annually for the members. She worked in the community for children’s services and was well known for her advocacy for women in medicine.

DHH Conducts Beach Water Testing to Help Keep Residents Safe at the Beach

Contact: John Ford; 225.342.9010, jpford@la.gov

Baton Rouge, La. – The Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals' (DHH) Beach Monitoring Program monitors coastal waters throughout the summer to help keep residents safe.

The program, which works with state and local partners from May 1 to October 31, collects water samples for analysis at 24 beach sites along the Louisiana coast. The goal of the testing is to determine whether the state's water quality meets the federal Beaches Environmental Assessment and Coastal Health (BEACH) Act of 2000.

"Going to any of our state's beaches with friends and family is a great way to spend your time this summer," said Beach Monitoring Program Administrator Gordon LeBlanc. "But it's important to stay safe in the water while you're out there."

Each week, DHH collects and analyzes water samples for high levels of enterococci, which indicates the possible presence of disease-causing bacteria, viruses and protozoans. The Department posts signs each week to reflect current water quality based on each location's test results. Visit the DHH Beach Monitoring website to check on any location's current status.

Individuals who ingest waterborne bacteria may become ill and exhibit symptoms such as diarrhea, sore throat, stomach cramps or vomiting. Children, people with weakened immune systems and the elderly have a higher risk of becoming sick.

Swimmers and others enjoying the water can become exposed to bacteria by ingesting it through the mouth, nose and ears, or through an open wound. If DHH test results indicate a beach site is unsafe, the Department works with the local government on beach closure considerations.

The program monitors sites including Constance Beach, Cypremort Point, Fontainebleau and Grand Isle state parks, Holly Beach, Rutherford, Martin, Long (Dung) Beach, Little Florida, Gulf Breeze, Grand Isle, Elmer's Island, Lake Charles North Beach and Lake Charles South Beach.

While spending time on the beach, also remember the following tips:

- Never swim alone and always have adult supervision when children and other people requiring supervision are in or around water.
- Make sure everyone who plans to get in the water knows how to swim.
- Use alcohol responsibly around water and avoid its use entirely when supervising children.
- Avoid swimming after heavy rains and near runoff areas where there may be an increase in risk of exposure to bacteria.
- Always wear sunscreen with broad spectrum (UVA and UVB) protection and an SPF of at least 15 or 30.
- Apply sunscreen 15 to 20 minutes prior to going out in the sun, and reapply at least every two hours.
- Cover up with clothing to protect exposed skin, wear UV-blocking sunglasses and consider wearing a wide-brim hat that shades the face, head, ears and neck.
- Take frequent breaks from the sun by going indoors or moving into the shade, especially during midday hours between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.
- Stay hydrated by drinking plenty of water.

This is the fifth article in a series of Summer Safety advisories the Department will send out this summer. Check back each Wednesday throughout the summer for more safety information.

The Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals strives to protect and promote health statewide and to ensure access to medical, preventive and rehabilitative services for all state citizens. SUDIA Recipe: Layered Broccoli Salad

This fresh, crunchy salad will add flavor to your next gathering. Chopped broccoli florets and red onions are perfectly balanced with the light taste of cheddar and the tangy taste of sweetened cranberries.

Ease: Easy

Yield: 6 servings

Preparation Time: 25 minutes

Ingredients

6 cups chopped broccoli florets
1 small red onion, very thinly sliced
1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) Cheddar cheese, grated
2/3 cup dried, sweetened cranberries or raisins
1/2 cup plain fat-free yogurt
3 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1/4 cup unsalted, dry roasted, hulled sunflower seeds or chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons 50% less fat bacon pieces

Directions

In a large glass serving bowl, layer broccoli, onion and cranberries. In a small bowl, whisk together yogurt, honey, mayonnaise and vinegar. Drizzle the yogurt dressing over the layered salad. Layer cheese on top. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve. Sprinkle with sunflower seeds and bacon pieces just before serving.

2015 Childhood Obesity & Public Health Conference

Save the Date!

Wednesday October 28, 2015

The 2015 Pennington Biomedical Research Center
Childhood Obesity & Public Health Conference

This is the eighth annual childhood obesity and public health conference to be held at the Pennington Biomedical Research Center on Wednesday, October 28, 2015. Given the emphasis on developing evidence-based public health strategies targeting childhood obesity, the topic of this conference is on local Louisiana researchers and how their work is having an impact at the national level.

Learning Objectives

The participants in this conference will be able to:

- comprehend the extent of the problem of childhood obesity in Louisiana
- understand the current local and national landscapes with respect to pediatric obesity prevention and treatment health care reimbursement
- describe the “Challenge for a Healthier Louisiana” program and its state-wide impact
- understand the potential of local pediatric obesity research to have a national impact

Who Should Attend?

This conference is designed for professionals engaged in public health efforts, including: physicians, nutritionists, physical activity specialists, registered dietitians, nurses, health educators, psychologists, and counselors; healthcare policy makers, researchers, media, business and civic leaders, parks and recreation personnel, and early childhood and school-age educators and decision-makers.

How to Register?

Registration for this conference is not yet open. You will receive an email informing you when online registration becomes available.

2015 National Pediatric Disaster Coalition Conference

You are invited to attend the National Pediatric Disaster Coalition Conference (NPDCC) November 2-4, 2015 at the Camelback Inn Resort and Spa in Scottsdale, Arizona. The purpose of the NPDCC is to provide medical practitioners; clinical staff; hospital emergency management; other hospital representatives; prehospital providers; educators, school nurses and other school representatives; behavioral health providers; and faith-based organization representatives with tools, training, resources, and information to improve pediatric disaster preparedness. Speakers will examine a broad spectrum of pediatric disaster response, resilience, extended care, recovery, and coalition topics as gleaned from surviving Hurricane Sandy, the Boston Marathon bombing, the Joplin tornado, the Sandy Hook shooting, and more. Continuing Education Credits are available, and accommodations are available for access and functional needs populations.

The National Advisory Committee on Children and Disasters’ Surge Capacity Work Group Report (April 28, 2015) “recommended to ASPR to . . . support convening pediatric health care coalition and preparedness stakeholders annually to assess strategic planning, gap analysis, and mitigation tactics for addressing . . . threats with national implications.” In addition, the NACCD states “coalitions will benefit from . . . sharing information, strategies, resources, and challenges, and thus [identifying] many unused and unrecognized tools existing at the local, state, and national levels [to] . . . avoid reinventing the wheel with each response . . .”

Registration has started (early bird registration is $485, regular registration begins July 1, 2015 at $585, and late registration begins October 1 at $685). For additional information, go to npdconference.org. For questions, contact Deb Roepke at deb.roepke@coyotecrisis.org or 480.861.5722.
